GETTYSBURG IS AGAIN "SAVED"

Invading Army Approaching from Western Part of the County is Repulsed by Young Students in a Lively Sham Battle.

Gettysburg was again saved from the carnage of war this morning when, in a mimic battle on the hills just west of town, the students who compose the camp of instruction by their able charges and onslaughts were able to locate and drive back the body of Regulars who had advanced toward town as far as Willoughby Run.

There were about 235 men engaged in the battle which was the best directed and most successful of any of the actual maneuvers in which the students have had a part thus far.

The students, 153 in number, were commanded by Captain Brown, of the Regular Army while their opponents, about seventy or eighty Regulars, were in charge of Capt. McCoy.

The plan of the sham battle placed the Regulars advancing on the town. They were supposed to have crossed Marsh Creek with their wagon trains when some of the defending party managed to get in their rear, "burn" the bridge at Black Horse Tavern and escape back through the Regulars' lines to town, there joining their main body of men. It was up to the Regulars to take the defensive then at once, as the students were supposed to advance on the enemy, keeping under cover as much as possible, and, when near enough to find out the exact position of the enemy, to charge and engage them in a hand-to-hand fight.

The enemy were hidden in the woods and thickets which lie just west of Willoughby Run where their position would make them master of ceremonies for several hours at least until they could "repair" the damaged bridge and fall back in order with their wagon trains toward Fairfield.

The Regulars threw out picket lines toward town as far east as Reynolds avenue to watch for the advance of the students who were concealed in the woods on West Confederate avenue. About eight o'clock the students sent out their scouts to locate the enemy as neither side knew the exact position of the other. As soon as the student scouts determined the position of the enemy's main body of men they sent the word back to their main body, which advanced by thin lines and under the protection of any trees or bushes which offered themselves.

It was over an hour before the whole body of students could cross the valley and hill which lie between West Confederate avenue and the hill which lies west of Willoughby Run. When, however, they were within three or four hundred yards of the Regulars who were hidden in the woods, they advanced in battle line on the run and did remarkably well in dislodging the enemy and forcing them to fall back with their wagon trains and supplies. About thirty rounds of ammunition were expended on each side and from eight-thirty until ten o'clock the hills resounded with the continuous crack of the musketry.

The battle was viewed by possibly a hundred people or more and was very creditable on the part of the students, according to some of the army officers in command, especially in view of the fact that they did not do what they were naturally expected to—bunch together when within close range of the enemy and become demoralized.

When the smoke of the battle cleared away the Regulars, or enemy, were found to have fallen back and the students were then organized and marched back to camp to be corrected on any mistakes they had made in the advance on the foe and to be complimented on their heroic defense of the town of Gettysburg.

PARCEL CHANGE SURE

Change will Go into Effect on August 15.

Despite some criticism of the proposed reduction in parcel post rates and the increase in the size of packages, Postmaster General Burleson announced he would issue the final orders at once putting the changes in effect August 15. The announcement came after the wisdom of making the changes had been subjected to a searching review before the Senate Postoffice Committee in the presence of the Postmaster General.

COUNTY ROADS WORK STOPPED

No More Operations on Dirt Roads in Adams County until State Tangible is Unraveled. Continue Work on Oxford Road.

Between one hundred and fifty and two hundred men, employed on the dirt roads in Adams County have been laid off this week and work on the good roads operations in the county, with the exception of the pike from Gettysburg to New Oxford, have been suspended until Auditor General Powell can be satisfied as to the legality of paying the men.

This is the result of the action of the auditor general Tuesday, when he notified the heads of all departments of the state government created since 1873, when the constitution was adopted, that he would make no payments to them until he received a legal opinion whether they are legally part of the executive branch of the state government and definition as to what are ordinary expenses of the state government.

This action has the effect of holding up for an indefinite period payment of appropriations made in the general appropriation bill to two-thirds of the departments, including the department of highways, and this caused suspension of work on the dirt roads.

It is feared that unless some way can be found to secure portions of the appropriation there will be serious results. Men in charge of road work do not know when money will be available for their payrolls.

The New Oxford road operations will continue and the roadway proper is expected to be finished in eleven weeks, after which the work at the sides of the highway will be taken up.

Auditor General Powell was informed in an opinion given to him by Deputy Attorneys General J. E. B. Cunningham, William M. Hargest and William N. Trinkle that certain departments created by the legislature since the adoption of the constitution of 1873 are branches of the executive department of the state government and that the highway construction fund is an item of ordinary expense.

On Friday Mr. Powell authorized payments under the General Appropriation bill to a number of departments not mentioned in the Constitution as comprising the executive branch of the State government, stating that he was satisfied of the legality of payments to them, but that he was not prepared to make any statement regarding the Health, Highway and other departments unpaid.

Local interest in the Auditor General's action is also aroused on account of the close proximity of the Mont Alto Sanitarium. Dr. Samuel G. Dixon points out the serious results if operations are held up there for even one day and an early solution to the tangle is hoped for in all state departments affected.

KILLED BY GRINDSTONE

A most shocking and distressing accident occurred Thursday afternoon about four o'clock on the Noble farm on the south-western suburbs of Carlisle, tenanted by Daniel Witmer and which resulted in the death of his young son, Ernest, not quite eleven years old, and the injuring of two other boys. The lads were running a grindstone with a bicycle and it ran so fast as to cause it to break. Pieces flew in every direction, and one of them injured Ernest to such an extent that death resulted about two hours afterward.

WALKING FROM COAST TO COAST

One of Pair of Hikers has Traveled for More than a Year. Joined by a Companion, he Sets out for the Pacific Coast.

Attired in khaki suits covered with dust, with water pouches on their backs, and wearing shoes that could stand almost any kind of wear, two tanned-faced youths arrived in Gettysburg to-day on a coast-to-coast walk. They are A. Herzog, of New York city, and S. Mikolasy, whose home is in Constanza, Roumania.

Starting from his native town on February 12 of last year, Mikolasy, with only a dog as a companion, walked through Roumania, Austria-Hungary, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France and England. Taking a steamer for America, he arrived in New York city about June 1 of this year. Mikolasy, who cannot speak a word of English, is a journalist in his country.

In New York Mikolasy met Herzog and persuaded him to accompany him on his trip to the Pacific Coast. Herzog was employed on the staff of one of the German newspapers of New York. Shortly after his arrival Mikolasy went into the office of the newspaper to give the story of his trip. Herzog was assigned to write the article and during the conversation that followed determined to join the foreigner.

The pair started out on the first of this month. They made their best time Friday, when a distance of 42 miles was covered.

Only one thing to sadden the hearts of the walkers, especially Mikolasy, has happened thus far. On the morning of July 4 the dog which had so faithfully followed him since his departure from Roumania was killed by an automobile in Lawrenceville, N. J.

According to Herzog, New Jersey has the best roads for walking of the four states that have already been passed through. A diary is kept by him. From here they will go to Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Toledo, Chicago, Milwaukee, Seattle, to San Francisco. They expect to make the trip in about 140 or 150 days.

The hotel is a three-story frame building in the central part of the town. It has recently been renovated and a number of new additions made. PECULIAR ACCIDENT

INJURED MAN IS CRITICALLY ILL

Lake Royer Assault Victim not Expected to Live. Scouring the Mountain for his Assaulters. As yet Unsuccessful.

A reward of $100 has been issued by the Board of County Commissioners of Washington County for the arrest and conviction of the footpads, who held up and shot Wilmer Watson, on the road near Buena Vista Station Wednesday night. Their victim late last night was reported still to be in a precarious condition, his temperature being a little higher but no other change being observed. He is very weak and it is thought that his tubercular condition is much in his disfavor.

There are no developments reported from the search which is being made for the men in the mountain regions. Sheriff Snively received a message stating that two tramps were seen in the mountain near Pen Mar, and the Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff Long hurried to the place but not in time to find the men.

It was learned that Watson's watch was not taken as was stated in the first messages received from the witnesses of the shooting. After he was shot, he was caught by his wife as he was falling and he threw one hand on the wound and with the other he took the wallet containing his money from his pocket and handed it to the men, who took it and escaped.

Mrs. Carrie Pasterfield, Watson's mother-in-law, and her son, George Pasterfield, expressed the belief that Watson was shot by enemies posing as bandits. It seems that there had been some feeling on the part of several individuals against Watson because he had leased the lake for eight successive years when there were other applicants.

Since the hold-up Watson's wife has been in a serious condition, due to shock. Her highly nervous state has caused alarm and she is being kept under the care of nurses.

COVER MORRISON DEAD

Thurmont Man who Came in Contact with a Live Wire.

Cover Morrison, of Thurmont, who received a shock from a live wire while at work at the substation of the Hagerstown and Frederick Railroad, at Thurmont, on July 16, died Friday at the Frederick City Hospital. Mr. Morrison was in his twenty-eighth year. For nine years he served as telegraph operator for the Western Maryland Railway at Thurmont, and had been employed but a day or so at the substation of the electric road when the accident occurred. Besides his parents he leaves two sisters and two brothers.

The unexpected change in his condition was noted on Wednesday evening when symptoms of tetanus developed. He had been able to sit up in a chair and seemed to be getting along nicely. Thursday he took to his bed and his condition grew serious until the end came on Friday, death being due to lockjaw.

Mr. Morrison was removed to the hospital the morning he was injured. He had come in contact with a live wire and was knocked unconscious, being severely burned, cut and bruised about the forehead in the fall. Although the burns which were on the feet, shoulders and chest were very painful, he was getting along very nicely and it was thought that he would soon be able to leave the hospital fully recovered. The news of his death comes as a shock to the family and the young man's friends.

DANCE IN CAMP

Dancing was enjoyed from eight thirty to eleven o'clock.

CONFER ON MEXICO TODAY

Ambassador Wilson Gives H Views to President.

INTERVENTION IS NONSENS

Washington, July 26.—Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador to Mexico, who returned to the United States to give his suggestions regarding a solution of the troubled affairs in that country, reported to Secretary of State Bryan today.

Shortly afterwards a conference took place, participated in by President Wilson, Secretary Bryan, Ambassador Wilson and Mr. Moore, of the state department.

The ambassador is completely satisfied with his own conduct while representing this country in the capital of Mexico; regrets nothing that he did against the Maderos and for the Huerta-Diaz faction; insists that he would do the same thing over again.

His temper rose perceptibly when he was asked what he thought about the accusation made by Mrs. Francisco I. Madero and Alfonso Madero that the American ambassador was morally responsible for the overthrow and the assassination of Madero. Mr. Wilson's eyes flashed. He cut the air with his clenched right fist.

"That is a lie," he cried. "Mrs. Madero forged letters in order to back up her story. I don't want to talk about a woman, but in this case I have to tell the truth about her in justice to myself. She caused to be published letters purporting to be from me, but which I never wrote. The Madero family have persistently and deliberately lied about me and my acts. When the revolt occurred I realized that the Madero government could not stand, and knowing that American lives were in danger, and anxious to do my part in helping citizens of all nationalities, I brought General Huerta and General Diaz together. That was the only method of securing peace and an orderly government. If I hadn't done so all Mexico City would have been in flames."

"What is the truth about the death of Madero?" the ambassador was asked.

"That is a matter which I cannot discuss," he said. "I may say, though, that I have no reason to doubt the story that the president and the vice president of Mexico were shot to death while their guards were resisting an attack from Maderistas."

The ambassador talked freely about the intervention problem.

"This talk about intervention and invasion is nonsense," he said. "Mexico is all right. There is no necessity for us to invade the territory of a friendly neighbor. Conditions have been exaggerated."

Referring to the situation in Mexico, he said:

"I should say that the situation is critical, but not as bad as has been painted. The greatest difficulty in Mexico is economic and financial. They need money. They need also a modern system of land tenure. I think these things, though, will come about in the course of the next few years."

"That mediation scheme," continued Mr. Wilson, "by which representatives of the United States and of two South American republics would form a tripartite commission to bring about peace in any disturbed Latin-American country, is one of John Barrett's ideas."

MRS. PANKHURST CRITICAL

London, July 26.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the weakened but unconquerable leader of the British suffragettes, was subjected to a transfusion of blood operation in a desperate attempt to save her life.

The operation was performed after a consultation of several of the most eminent physicians of London. Mrs. Pankhurst's condition is admittedly precarious.

Successive hunger strikes in the Holloway jail, following each other so closely that Mrs. Pankhurst has never recovered from one before inaugurating another, have so undermined her constitution that she now is in danger of death.

Elliott to Head New Haven.

New York, July 26.—Howard Elliott, who succeeded Charles S. Mellen ten years ago as president of the Northern Pacific railroad, was selected by the board of directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad to succeed Mr. Mellen when the latter's resignation as president becomes effective on Sept. 1.

Baby Burned to Death.

Greensburg, Pa., July 26.—Mabel, the four-month-old child of Charles J. Powers, was burned to death when her brother Charles, aged four years, built a fire under a baby carriage in which the child was sleeping.

Child's Murderer Gets Death Sentence

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 26.—The death sentence was passed upon Edward Exler by Judge J. C. Haymaker. Exler, who is a butcher, was convicted of murdering twelve-year-old Lillian Schade last November.

The spark of decency and manhood is still inherent in that man who loves innocent little children and takes time from the stress of work and worry to admire the beauty and fragrance of flowers.

60 CONVICTS TAKEN FROM SING SING

Ossining, N. Y., July 26.—Sixty convicts, the dregs of the New York criminal class, were taken, one by one, from their cells in Sing Sing prison and placed aboard a train for the state prison at Auburn.

Recent riots in Sing Sing caused the warden to take no chances. Each convict was heavily handcuffed and shackled and then chained to his place in the railroad car, which had been brought inside the prison enclosure.

A hundred prison guards did this work, while in the state armory not far away a company of naval militia waited for a call to protect the town in case the transfer of convicts resulted in a prison mutiny.

There was little sleep in the prison. At intervals some of the prisoners would start to howl and bang on their cell doors. The din would increase as it was taken up and down the line of cells and continue until the angry convicts had worn themselves out.

When the first convicts were brought out to their car Sing Sing suddenly awoke. More than a thousand prisoners rushed to their cell windows and cursed and howled and yelled threats at the keepers.

After he has rid the prison of the second-term men to be transferred to Auburn, Warden Clancy expects to have no more trouble in keeping order. To them and a few of their more desperate sympathizers the warden attributes the mutinies that broke out at Sing Sing this week, the two fires in the prison shops and the attempt to murder a colored convict, whom the mutineers regarded as a traitor.

BASE BALL FOR CONVICTS

Newton, N. J., July 26.—Base ball has brought peace to the nearby camp of convicts employed on state roads, and peace of mind to the guards.

The introduction of the game was sanctioned just when the success of the experiment of using convicts on the highways seemed threatened by the restlessness of the prisoners during their idle hours.

Some of the convicts began a game of "pitch and catch," with a round stone for a ball. An overseer bought them a real base ball and their delight was like that of children.

With the permission of the state prison authorities an entire base ball outfit was later purchased at a Newton store and the convicts formed themselves into two teams under their respective captains.

An open field near the camp has been selected for the diamond, and games are now held every evening, while the guards, with rifles across their knees, watch from the bleachers.

Well-fed, with open-air sleeping quarters and plenty of exercise, the convicts have lost their prison palor, are becoming bronzed and strong, and appear greatly benefited, both in mind and body, by their outdoor work.

Kills Man Who Beat Him.

Huntington, W. Va., July 26.—George Hatcher, a farmer living near Harold, Ky., shot and mortally wounded William Goodwin and seriously injured Frank Vincent and James Smith near his home. Hatcher alleges that he was attacked by the three men and severely beaten. He ran to his home and returned with a rifle. The shooting followed.

185 Americans Flee From Mexico.

Galveston, Tex., July 26.—One hundred and eighty-five American refugees arrived here on board the steamship Texas from Vera Cruz and Tampico. The passengers will be held in quarantine until July 29.

WILL EXTEND PARCEL POST

To Lower Rates and Increase Size of Packages.

TO BEGIN AUGUST 15

Postmaster General Burleson Will Put New Rules Into Effect Despite Senatorial Criticism.

Washington, July 26.—Despite senatorial criticism of the proposed reduction in parcel post rates and the increase in the size of packages to twenty pounds, Postmaster General Burleson announced he would issue the final orders at once, putting the proposed changes in effect Aug. 15.

The announcement came after the wisdom of making the changes had been subjected to a searching review before the senate postoffice committee.

Edgar E. Clark, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, explaining why the commission had sanctioned the proposed changes, said he believed the postmaster general had ample power under the law to make the changes.

"I am convinced that the postoffice department ought to, can and will extend the parcel post until it will carry all packages up to 100 pounds," he added.

In answer to criticism of his proposed changes the postmaster general appeared before the senate postoffice committee with Mr. Clark.

The postmaster general read a letter from the commission stating that it was satisfied conditions were such as to prevent the shipment by the parcel post of many articles, and that the proposed changes were "in order to promote the service to the public."

Senator Bristow said he believed the postmaster general had authority to change the rates and zones if the interstate commerce commission approved. Other senators agreed, but questioned his authority to abandon the distinctive stamp.

"We are going to make money on this new business," said Burleson, "and we will be able to make further reductions in rates." Since the introduction of the parcel post Mr. Burleson said the revenue of the Chicago postoffice had increased 21.53 per cent. He believed that due to the parcel post.

He produced figures to show that on twenty-pound packages the government would make a profit of 19 cents. Senator Bryan declared there would be a loss of eight cents.

Public hearings will not be held by the interstate commerce commission upon the expediency of the changes proposed by the postoffice department in the rate and zones and weights in the parcel post service.

The commission issued a statement in which it said:

"The commission does not consider that the provisions of the parcel post act, to the effect that certain changes may be made by the postmaster general with the consent of the commission, contemplates that the commission shall necessarily hold hearings on such proposals."

"The question of compensation to the carriers for hauling the mails is a matter of contract between them and the postoffice department, in connection with which this commission has no jurisdiction."

UPHOLDS MONROE DOCTRINE

Resolution Against 'Peoples With Whom Caucasian Cannot Assimilate.'

Washington, July 26.—Representative Clark, of Florida, introduced a concurrent resolution reaffirming the Monroe doctrine. It was referred to the foreign affairs committee.

"We hereby reaffirm what is known as the Monroe Doctrine in each and every essential," the resolution read, "and declare our unflinching allegiance thereto. In reaffirming the Monroe Doctrine, the resolution closes, 'We do so with the earnest desire to maintain peace and friendly relations with every nation upon earth, but we cannot permit the further extension of any colonization systems of European nations upon any territory of this hemisphere, and particularly shall we object to such colonization by peoples with whom the Caucasian cannot and will not assimilate.'"

U. S. PAYS PANAMA $250,000

First Payment For Annual Rental of Canal Zone Is Forwarded.

Washington, July 26.—The first payment of $250,000 to Panama for the annual rental of the canal zone was made. The payments are in addition to $10,000,000 paid in cash to Panama nine years ago.

At the request of the Panama minister, Senor Morales, the money was paid over to a representative of William Nelson Cromwell, of New York, financial agent for the Panama government.

Robbers Blow Two Safes.

New York, July 26.—Robbers blew open two safes in different sections of the downtown district. In one case the burglars got $400 in cash and jewelry. In the other safe, just as the robbers were within reach of $2500, detectives appeared on the scene, and in a running revolver fire one of the robbers was hit by a bullet. The police failed to make a capture in either case.

While the paterfamilias may wish for it, he can hardly expect his son and heir to develop a finer or more noble type of manhood than he himself exemplifies.

GOOD ROADS AND CHURCHES.

If the Walking or Driving Is Bad People Stay Home.

Churches and schools, the two great agencies for the upbuilding of any citizenship, are sufferers from the ills which come from thoroughfares of an inferior type, says James R. Marker, state highway commissioner of Ohio, in a recent report. Decreased attention during periods of inclement weather, when either to drive or walk imposes at the best a hardship and is often an impossibility over poor roads, cannot help but be the natural result.

It cannot be expected that children will be compelled to walk to school if a sea of mud furnishes the only footing, and this is too frequently true in places outside the urban centers and often so in the latter. Nor is it to be hoped that the horse will be employed to find his path along the treacherous road in order that the children may not miss their lessons. Those who deal in statistics claim that good roads everywhere would increase school attendance not less than 25 per cent.

Preachers bear striking testimony as to the effect miserable roads have upon the attendance at the churches. They can gauge it with accuracy, and the percentage of decrease there is no less than in the schools. Good roads point not only toward larger audiences, but larger contributions and less donation parties. Thus they become a powerful agency for spiritual and educational growth.

Investigations which have been carried on by the United States geological survey during the past three years in the Grand Mesa and West Elk mountain fields in Colorado reveal deposits of coal that are estimated to contain 12,000,000,000 tons of recoverable coal, which is equal to three-fourths of all the coal that has been mined or lost through mining processes in the United States since the beginning of the industry.

72,800 AUTO CARS

Largest List in the History of the State are Licensed.

The automobile division of the State Department of Highways Friday issued automobile license No. 72,800, and the indications are that the number will run to 80,000 before the year is over, the largest in the history of the State and over one-third more at present than the total number issued last year. The license money is now all placed to the credit of the State Highway Department for road purposes under the new law passed by the last Legislature and a special law does not have to be passed to dispose of the license money. The absence of such a law in the past two years held up about $600,000 license fees, which the Auditor General declined to pay out until a special law was passed disposing of it. He, however, set the money apart for roads, as provided in another law, so that it was available when the new law was passed.

BETTER BUSINESS AND GOOD ROADS
Modern Methods of Building Are Now Essential.
FARMER KING OF COUNTRY.

Yet Without Good Roads the Agriculturist Cannot Take Advantage of the Best Markets For His Produce at All Seasons of the Year.
The primary source of wealth in our agricultural states is the farm products. The margin of profit on farm products is largely affected by the relative distance to market and the conditions of the wagon roads. Without railroads the value of most farm land would not exceed one-quarter of what it is today. Wagon roads are the connecting links between the farms and the railroads, and with good roads the farmer can take advantage of the best market at all times. Every one that uses roads should be interested in having good roads. How can they be made? Shall we continue to make them by the primitive methods used by our forefathers, or shall we adopt modern methods?
Obsolete, impractical, inefficient and most expensive methods are in most places in use. Roadmaking in general has not kept pace with most other industries in the use of practical and efficient labor saving devices. The old way of working roads on a day too wet to plow corn or harvest, putting a few shufshurfs of earth in the middle of the road in heaps like a diminutive mountain range and leaving them to be leveled by the elements of nature and use, should be abandoned. Road work should be placed in the hands of competent workmen that work continuously during the suitable season with a practical power roadmaking equipment. With this ten times as much first class road can be made and finished as where old methods are used with the same amount of money. This plan works no hardship on the farmer. He is the king of the country and has enough to do on his farm without working roads.

A modern roadmaking outfit can be operated with three men at a cost of from $15 to $20 per day, says a writer in the Iowa Homestead, and will make a mile of finished road as smooth as a paved street. This includes the making of open ditches on the sides from one foot to four feet deep, at the pleasure of the operator.
Earth roads should have a slope each way from the center of about three-quarters of an inch to the foot on level or nearly level places; on hills it may be less. If depressions are left they hold water, and everything that touches these places makes them larger.
The supreme thing is to keep the roadbed dry, thus lessening the bad effects of frost and the cost of upkeep. Scientific roadmaking preserves as much as possible the primitive condition of the ground—that is, in grading the road one should not plow it up like a field, but displace only what earth is necessary to bring the road to the proper grade and side slope. In observing these matters years are saved in making a perfect roadbed.
Earth roads are the most delightful of all roads when well graded and free from dust. All well graded roads can be wonderfully improved and the upkeep lessened one-half by covering the top with a coating of about two inches of sharp sand and clay in which may be mixed half crushed stone that will go through a one inch mesh. If sand and clay are used, mix in the proportion of 80 per cent of sand and 20 per cent of clay. If crushed stone is used, mix it half and half with the sand and clay mixture. This coating should be spread on and harrowed and rolled until it is thoroughly mixed and packed so as to fill all the voids, and then it will shed the water like a roof and keep your roadbed dry. In half an hour after a hard rain you will have a good road. This can be improved by sprinkling with a mixture made of crude petroleum in the proportion of one barrel of oil to three barrels of water emulsified with the soluble part of cream of clay.
A little sand improves an earth road somewhat, but when used alone it is too porous and soon washes into the ditches.
Several towns in the writer's home state have been completely rid of dan delions by bands of Italian laborers he longed to railroad construction camps located in the neighborhood. In their spare hours they scour the lawns and town and country roadsides, taking the plants to their camps and putting them down in barrels with sugar and getting a fair quality of wine.

JESSE R. GRANT.
Youngest Son of Late President
Suing Wife For Divorce.

Jesse Root Grant, youngest son of the late ex-President Grant, has filed suit for divorce at Goldfield, Nev., from Elizabeth Chapman Grant. Description was the only allegation. Mrs. Grant was Miss Chapman of San Francisco. It is the subject of comment that he should file his divorce suit on the very day that his older brother, Ulysses S., sailed for Australia with his young bride after a stormy time at San Diego owing to the strong opposition of his children to his marriage.

TWO MEN KILLED DURING INITIATION
Electric Shock is Fatal to Candidates.

Birmingham, Ala., July 26.—Donald A. Kenney, a chauffeur, and Christopher Gustin, an iron moulder, were killed by an electric shock at the local hall of the Loyal Order of Moose.
An initiation was in progress and an electric shock was part of the ceremony. In some way Kenney and Gustin, it is said, received too much current.
More than 150 members of the lodge were present at the initiation. Several other candidates had passed all the ceremonies and Kenney and Gustin were prepared for the branding. A metal emblem of the order was made red hot while they looked on. Their chests were bared and both candidates were blindfolded.
A magnet was attached to one leg of each candidate and a chilled rubber emblem was pressed against their chests, while an electric circuit was completed by a small wire touching their shoulders. Both men fainted. The lodge members thought they were "playing possum."
John P. Abbott, the presiding officer, did not stop the initiation until it was seen that the two men were dying. Dr. L. V. Neill, the lodge physician, failed to revive them. Five minutes after the electric current was applied both men were dead.
After an examination of the body of Gustin, Coroner Spain said no other cause of death showed but that of electrical shock. The secretary, Williams, of the lodge, said there was no departure from the usual ceremony in the initiations. No arrests have been made.
In the case of both horses and cattle and folks might be added to the list there is no scrub that is more of a scrub or more conspicuous than a thoroughbred scrub. This means that it takes something more than a pedigree on paper to make either a man or an animal worth his salt.
A very convincing reason for swatting the fly now is that under average conditions it will become the grandfather or grandmother of 1,000,000,000 by the time the middle of September rolls around. The writer hasn't verified these figures by actual count, but gives them on what seems to be good authority.
Shoots Wife and Her Mother.

SAYS HE PAID LABOR MEN CASH

GIVEN TO "PARTY WORKERS"
Lobbyist Created a Sensation by Swearing Repeaters Were Offered Him For Use to Defeat Hughes in New Jersey.

Washington, July 26.—Expense accounts of Colonel Martin M. Mulhall, the former lobbyist of the National Association of Manufacturers, were introduced into the record of the senate lobby investigating committee, together with much political correspondence.
Senator Nelson questioned Mulhall closely about items in the expense accounts which frequently showed $80 amounts "paid to two party workers" for services in the Sixth New Jersey Congressional district.
Mulhall swore that he dealt with a man named "Feeney," and that he paid him the money in cash, usually meeting him in a Philadelphia hotel. The items appeared almost every week.
Mulhall was not questioned as to whether "Feeney," whom he mentioned was Frank Feeney, the Philadelphia union labor man, who has gured in previous testimony of Mulhall.
Mulhall caused a mild sensation by swearing that a list of repeaters from New York had been offered him in the Sixth New Jersey campaign against William Hughes in 1910 by a Mr. Conklin, who, he said, was a Republican county chairman in that district.
"I refused them," Mulhall said. "He told me both sides used them."
Several of Mulhall's expense accounts about the time of the 1910 election showed large amounts paid for work at the polls. He swore he had not paid any of the money directly to voters. He said it had gone directly to party workers.
Senator Overman announced that lawyers for the National Association of Manufacturers and of the American Federation of Labor would be allowed to cross-examine Mulhall. This was a reversal of a previously announced program.
One of the last letters put in was from A. C. Marshall, to Emery, counsel of the manufacturers, relating to the selection of a postoffice site at Dayton, O. A settlement was being delayed by "a speculative movement" headed by James M. Cox, member of congress, "now governor of Ohio, it said."
Mulhall showed signs of collapse under the vigorous questioning and he finally exclaimed: "I'm almost broken down; for God's sake have mercy on me."
The committee adjourned until Monday to let Mulhall rest.
One of the first letters read into the record was one from Mulhall, dated Aug. 26, 1910, to Representative Henry Bannan, of Portsmouth, Ohio, offering his services to work for Bannan's election. Kirby, then head of the National Association of Manufacturers, wrote to Mulhall on Aug. 31: "I feel constrained to remind you of the danger of putting too much on paper. I suggest that you be careful about going into details as to your maneuvers, which as a rule can best be reported verbally to Mr. Bird."
Bird was the general manager of the association. Mulhall wrote to Bird of conferences with Senator Lodge and Charles E. Hatfield, "chairman of the state committee."
"Senator Lodge pays us all kinds of compliments for the work we are doing, and I know we will have his aid more actively than ever before in the next campaign," wrote Mulhall.
Other letters that month Mulhall wrote "Through our efforts we have beaten the Hon. T. D. Nichols, of the Tenth Pennsylvania, and we also have beaten notorious George A. Pearre, of infamy fame, in the Sixth Maryland."
On Aug. 30 Mulhall wrote to President Taft, asking for an interview for Bird and himself.
"It will be a great help to have a number of the leaders of the manufacturing associations in touch with the leaders of our party throughout the country in the present crisis," the letter ran.
Mulhall swore he received a reply from C. D. Norton, then the president's secretary, arranging the interview for Monday after, Sept. 12, at Beverly.
On Oct. 5, 1910, Mulhall wrote for Senator Foraker about his talk with President Taft, saying he had submitted names of men who would help in the campaign.
John G. Shreve, of Atlantic City N. J., frequently informed Mulhall of conditions in Representative Gardner's district in that state, and Oct. 27, 1910 mentioned that there was a disposition on the part of the independents to support Woodrow Wilson, then governor, for president.
Married Six Months, Divorced.
Syracuse, N. Y., July 26.—A decree of absolute divorce to Mrs. Maurice G. Flynn, wife of "Lefty" Flynn, the Yale football player, was granted in a referee's report here. They were married secretly in New York six months ago. A chorus girl was named as co respondent by Mrs. Flynn, who herself was a former chorus girl.
St. Luke's picnic will be held, August 9th, in Weikert's woods back of the church. Everybody welcome.

RAILROAD DISPUTE REACHES CRISIS
But the Mediators Make No Explanation.

New York, July 26.—After a conference with representatives of the trainmen and conductors the government mediators declared that the situation had reached a critical stage.
They would add nothing to this statement. Later the board again met the conference committee of the railroad managers.
The question of how the switchmen and yardmen of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad would stand in case of arbitration was discussed when the mediators met the managers.
There was a dispute as to whether men in two divisions of this road, who are not members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, but are members of the Switchmen's union, would be bound under the award of the arbitrators in case of arbitration.
Mr. Garretson, in speaking of the position of the members of the Switchmen's union, said: "That matter has been disposed of." Ballots were sent to the members of the Switchmen's union as well as the members of the railroad brotherhoods when the strike vote was taken. Some of the members of the union voted.

Chicago, July 26.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, who resigned as superintendent of Chicago's public schools because of friction with members of the school board, announced that she would take under consideration for three days the question of withdrawing her resignation.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 26.—Raymond Raab, sixteen years old, who recently confessed to setting fire to a fashionable North Side apartment house, causing the loss of one life and property worth $50,000, was committed to an institution for feeble-minded boys. He also confessed to starting five other fires "just to see the horses run."
23 Widows Apply For Jersey Pensions
Camden, N. J., July 26.—Twenty-three widows and sixty-four children appeared in common pleas court to ask for pensions under the Nichols act of the last legislature.

LONDON'S ANCIENT TOWER.

A Beefeater and a Yeoman Look Its Gates Every Night.

Strange to say, very few people are aware of an ancient custom which is still kept up at the Tower of London. Just before midnight a beefeater and the chief yeoman porter secure the keys from the governor's house to "lock up." Having received the keys they proceed to the guard room.

"Escort for the keys?" calls out the porter, and a sergeant and six privates turn out.

The procession then marches off, and the sentries they pass issue the usual challenge of "Who goes there?" to which the answer is "Keys."

Arriving at the entrance to the Tower grounds, the lion's gate, the porter locks the gates and the party returns to the guardroom, the sentry challenging as before and receiving the same answer. However, on arrival at the guardroom again the sentry stationed there stamps his foot, at the same time giving the usual challenge.

"Keys," replies the porter.

"Whose keys?" the sentry asks.

"King George's keys."

"Advance King George's keys, and all's well."

The porter then says, "God bless King George," and all present respond with "Amen." The keys are then saluted and returned to the governor's house, where they remain until the next night's ceremony. — Pearson's Weekly.

COLOR BLINDNESS.

Professor Bateson in lecturing before the Royal Institution on "Heredity of Sex" related some curious facts which had been discovered as the result of examining several generations of a family in which color blindness appeared.

A color blind woman was very rarely found, and she was always the daughter of a color blind man. Her sons and daughters would be normal and her sons' families would be normal, but if her daughters had sons they would be found to be normal and color blind in equal numbers.

A curious anomaly with reference to color blindness appeared in twin girls. They were exactly alike in appearance, but one girl was color blind and the other not. No explanation of this exception has been found.

Professor Bateson said that there was a popular belief that sons in certain respects took after their mothers and daughters after their fathers. Within a reasonable range of speculation this was so. As to sons taking after their mothers, they saw this in the experience of their own families. — London Cor. New York Times.

Why Clocks Get Out of Order.

The reason why mantelpiece clocks so often get out of order is so obvious that it is strange that attention to it has not been drawn before. A London clockmaker said:

"It is because mantelpieces are rarely level. If a clock meant for a mantelpiece is not placed in an exactly horizontal position it is sure to go wrong. When the clock gains or loses because of its slanting position people regularly move the hands forward or backward, as the case may be, in order to adjust it. Eventually the clock's hands are moved about so much that the mechanism gets out of order and the clock refuses even to tick. Watches and traveling clocks are constructed differently from the stationary clock, and they will go in any position. That is why they are relied upon more than the ornamental mantelpiece clock." — New York Times.

Work in the West.

There is a call for organization work in several states this spring. Work has begun in Wyoming and is well under way in North Dakota. Virginia may be undertaken this year, but it is the policy of National Master Wilson not to try to bring more than two or three states into the grand union each year. Montana came in last year, and good work is now being done there. Since Jan. 1 fifteen new granges have been organized there.
